

Youth Ethics Summit 2010

Special Focus on Pediatric Bioethics

Northwest Association for Biomedical Research
Seattle Children's Research Institute - Treuman Katz Center for Pediatric Bioethics
Institute of Translational Health Sciences

Soundgarden Room

April 17, 2010

9:30am-4:00pm

9:30am

Welcome and Introductions

James Hendricks PhD, President, Seattle Children's Research Institute
Jeanne Chowning MS, Director of Education, NW Assoc for Biomedical Research

9:45am

Introductory Panel

10:45 am

Break

11:00 am

First Breakout Session

- Should an adolescent be allowed to refuse medical treatments that may be important? Tracy Brazg MSW MPH
- What should doctors do when a parent doesn't want to disclose a child's diagnosis to the child? Holly Tabor PhD
- Should researchers give the results of genetic research to research participants? Mitzi Murray MD
- Understanding the "Ashley X" case: How should doctors respond to parents who ask for hormones to slow down the growth of their children with severe disabilities? Benjamin Wilfond MD
- How should doctors respond to adolescent boys with cancer who do not want to sperm bank? Stephanya Shear MD
- Who should have access to your DNA? Kelly Edwards PhD

12 Noon

Lunch (15 minute tours at beginning and end of lunch)

1:15pm

Second Breakout Session

2:30pm

Citizen Scientist

A film by Maren Grainger-Monson MD

3:00pm

Citizen Scientist: Discussion

Ben Wilfond MD and Jeanne Chowning MS

3:45pm

Closing