

Crossing the I's: Spokane, WA December 7, 2016

		IACUC	IBC	IRB
8.30am – 9.30am	The historical background to each of the major Institutional Review Committees	Steve Russell	J. Levi O'Loughlin	Andrea Lazarus	This session will provide an overview of what research committee members need to know about the laws and regulations governing research. Topics will include: determining what laws pertain; who enforces the laws and accredits facilities; what is the purpose and role of Intuitional Research Committees; the roles of the various committee member.
9.30am – 10.30am	The Current Protocol Review Process	Bill Dernell	Eric Shelden	Carol Llewlyn	During this session, faculty will cover the aspects a committee needs to consider as part of the review process, including: understanding why the research is being done; what will be done as part of the research; the intersections with other committees; the roles of committee members; and formal protocol review processes.
10.30am – 11.00am	Break
11.00am - Noon	Facility reviews and Site Visits (Aaron Putzke to moderate)	Sally Thompson-Iritani	TBD	TBD	This session will introduce committee members to all aspects of facility reviews and site visits; and ensuring that procedures are being undertaken as described in protocols
Noon – 1pm	Lunch
1.00pm – 2.00pm	Emerging Trends/ Local Issues & achieving compliance with the letter and the spirit of the law	Nina Woodford	J. Levi O'Loughlin	Radica Alicic	This session will provide participants with a summary of emerging, technical and local issues that they will need to be aware of and prepare for in each of their institutional committees.
2.00pm – 2.30pm	Regulatory Updates	Ken Gordon	Ken Gordon	Ken Gordon	During this session, faculty will provide information on all compliance updates and potential regulatory changes. Participants will receive an up-to-date summary of all regulations and the laws that impact their processes.
2.30pm – 3.00pm	Break				Facilitated Discussion
3.00pm – 4.00pm	How do we talk about our work	TBD	Ken Gordon	Ken Gordon	This session will provide participants with tools and resources to enable them to communicate about their work to the public, non-defensively, and in a manner that builds support for ethically conducted research.